

The National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) Summary Report indicates that you have an active bankruptcy claim. You can confirm this by going to the NSLDS website at www.nsls.ed.gov. You will need to use your FSA ID# to enter this website.

If you don't have an FSA ID#, please visit www.fsa.ed.gov.

The financial aid office will be reviewing your file to determine if the status of your bankruptcy claim still qualifies you for financial aid.

There is nothing for you to do regarding this comment. This needs to be reviewed by the financial aid office before you can receive an award letter.